TRENT JENNISON : CEO

► VALLEY INDUSTRIES

Helping People to Help Themselves

Valley Industries has been providing support and employment opportunities for people with disability in the Manning Valley since 1971.

Valley Industries is a community based not for profit organisation with strong, vibrant links with our community, parents, carers and other disability services, to ensure we offer the best services to those looking for support.

Our commercial enterprises enable Participants to develop skills and career paths through training and on-the-job experiences.

Valley Industries has developed innovative responses to changes in business directions and continually looks for opportunities to expand its businesses and services to enable our Participants to be integrated into the many varied aspects of modern society.

We employ over 140 people, with varying disability, who are trained in a diverse range of business skills and our Participants are involved in meaningful, paid employment.

Our Valley Skills for Life day services provide a broad range of activities for people with disability - from post school through to active retirement for some 70 people.

► MESSAGE FROM THE CEO

Since Valley Industries first opened its doors in 1971, the organisation has grown and evolved to become the premier provider of services to People with Disability on the Mid-North Coast.

Our organisation has evolved into 3 distinct parts - service provision, social enterprise and commercial enterprise.

We offer unmatched expertise in the region and have a team of dedicated and professional staff who truly delight in delivering great customer service for our Participants.

Our 45 years of experience in the sector, and our growth in commercial operations, gives us the opportunity to provide an ever-widening range of support services for Participants and their families looking to receive services under the NDIS.

Our services are also growing, and now include more 'in-home' activities to support Participants live full and satisfying lives in their own homes, and we will continue to develop these services over time.

We are committed to communicating with our Participants, their families and their carers, and our monthly newsletter shares important information about the NDIS, services, workshops and upcoming activities as well as celebrating the successes of our people.

We offer continuous training for staff to ensure we are developing ourselves and improving our skills - and staff recognition is an important part of our culture.

Valley Industries will continue to be an active and committed part of our community and offer the highest standard of disability services for that community.

"DELIVERING GREAT CUSTOMER SERVICE"

MAL SHULTZ : CHAIRMAN

► MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRMAN

It is a privilege to have been appointed as the Chairman of the Board of Directors of Valley Industries Ltd. I am proud to be associated with an organisation that is committed to providing such high quality services, employment and growth opportunities for people with disability.

As one of the main providers of support to people with disability in the Manning Valley for over 45 years, Valley Industries is well placed to manage the transition to the National Disability Insurance Scheme.

Our continuing and willing challenge at Valley Industries is to ensure that all current and future Participants achieve their just entitlement under the NDIS. As the scheme proceeds to roll-out, we have helped support our Participants to complete their first year plans – to ensure they get the financial and physical support that they need.

The Board of Directors and Management team of Valley Industries continue to build and strengthen the business with vigilance and dedication – creating more opportunities for more Participants – providing support for more than 230 people with disability every day.

Valley Industries is a strong and impressively managed organisation, ensuring we are well positioned to cope with growth, diversity, achievement and, of course, challenges.

A major decision was to further expand our commercial Laundry business unit. This entailed the acquisition of a large, modern factory in Elizabeth Avenue, Taree. Major investment in commercial laundry equipment has been made to meet increasing customer demand.

Fundraising activities continue to support a broad range of activities for our Participants. As part of our commitment to remaining a valuable part of our local community, we plan a number of events to raise awareness and funds. A great example is 'Auto Fest' – a public display of both classic and historic cars and motorbikes. The event was the brainchild of one of our hardworking employees – Monique Cahill – and was a huge success. The support of willing staff and clients of Valley Industries raised in excess of $10,000 towards the funding of events, outings and activities for Participants.

Communicating with our Participants, their families and carers, and other service providers in the area is a major priority for Valley Industries, and our monthly newsletter enables us to share valuable information such as updates from the NDIS, details of services available to Participants, as well as celebrating the successes and achievements of the people in our organisation.

Valley Industries is the recipient of the 'Ethical Business of the Year' Award - a well-deserved award reflecting the core values to which we always aspire.

I am also proud that we successfully achieved accreditation against the National Disability standards and ISO9001:2008.

OUR PEOPLE

PETER

"I joined Valley straight from school – I've been here 27 years, so yes, you could say I like it! I work in the canteen and do a bit of everything – I make cakes and biscuits, I serve meals, I clean the kitchen and I do the shopping.

I'm also in the Special Olympics and love it. I'm in the Ten Pin Bowling team and I swim and I'm very good at both – and have loads of medals to prove it.

I love traveling with the Special Olympics – we go all over NSW."

BEN

"I love working in the Nursery because I get to be outdoors and there is loads to do and I never get bored. My favourite job is to pot up the plants. It keeps me fit and strong – and I've got a great 6-pack to show for it.

The people I work with are pretty good and we have fun while we work."

MICHELLE

"I enjoy coming to work at Valley Industries because you are accepted for who you are and respected for what your disability limits are. The people are friendly but suffer from Monday-itus like we all do!

It is a very supportive place and I enjoy the things I do.

I'm the mail courier in the mornings and I work in Administration, always learning new things.

I am also an NDIS Champion which has been a brilliant experience. I've learnt lots, travelled and made presentations to lots of different people – which has all helped build my confidence."

HELPING PEOPLE TO HELP THEMSELVES

▶ VALLEY INDUSTRIES & NDIS

The National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS) is a once in a generation reform that will improve the lives of people with disability in Australia.

The NDIS is the new way of funding individual support for people with permanent and significant disability, their families and carers. NDIS funding enables Participants to purchase a range of supports aimed at increasing independence and inclusion.

Participants have the right to decide their own best interests, and to have choice and control over their lives and the supports they receive.

Through the NDIS, Participants will be able to access the reasonable and necessary supports they need, to live the life they want and achieve their goals and aspirations.

As the NDIS rolls out, Valley Industries is here to help Participants ensure they get the best support possible.

Everyone at Valley Industries is dedicated to encouraging all Participants to learn a skill, earn a wage, have fun and make long-lasting friendships.

► VALLEY SKILLS FOR LIFE

INDEPENDENCE AND INCLUSION

Valley Skills for Life takes a person-centred approach to helping Participants develop the skills they need to increase their independence and participate as valued and active members of the community. Planners work with each individual to design a program of activities to work towards achieving the individual's goals.

As the NDIS rolls-out across NSW, Valley Industries' considerable experience means we are well positioned to respond to Participants wants and needs promptly and sensitively.

Valley Skills for Life has created a very high standard of facilities and programs to meet the needs of our Participants. These have been developed over years and include the feedback of Participants, their families and carers and our Day Centre Planners.

We will continue to offer a flexible and stimulating range of activities for people with disability – from school leavers up to age 64.

We offer a wide range of activities including classes for Art & Craft, Music & Dancing, Reading & Literacy, Budgeting, Woodwork, Cookery, and activities such as Ten Pin Bowling, Walking, Swimming and fishing.

Participants will be encouraged to discuss what is important to them in their lives and choose activities and development opportunities that will bring them happiness and self-esteem.

In the NDIS pilot areas around Australia, it has seen Client Satisfaction ratings of over 90% - something we are looking forward to achieving with Participants at Valley Industries.

► VALLEY TRANSITION TO WORK & TRAINING

LEARNING NEW SKILLS

Valley Industries Transition to Work and Training program provides school leavers or individuals who have recently left school with the opportunity to develop their skills to prepare for the working world.

Eligible individuals for the program will be funded under the NDIS for School Leaver Employment Supports (SLES) to reach their goals, objectives and aspirations.

Our program runs for up to 2 years and provides on the job training and work experience options for students with a disability who have a goal to transition into open or supported employment.

Our supported training assists in the development of skills and qualifications needed by school leavers to gain employment, by offering the experience to work in a productive supported business.

The type of employment supports will be tailored to meet the needs of the individual Participant. These include a mix of on the job work experience in open or supported employment, training and skill development that help Participants reach their full potential and assist them to get and keep a permanent job.

"I love bringing the kids over here – it's unreal how good it is that we can do this. It's a great service for the Community and we're very lucky to have Valley Industries in this area."

▶ VALLEY SOCIAL SCENE

CREATING LIFE EXPERIENCES

Valley Industries arranges a wide and varied range of social outings and activities over the year to encourage Participants to see new places and take part in new experiences.

Our activities are excellent value for money, with the nominal charge covering all travel costs, entrance fees and meals.

Examples of recent activities include going to the Circus, visiting the Bago Maze, going Fishing, taking a Boating Cruise, playing Golf and going on a Mystery Tour!

Participants also take part in the Special Olympics and have competed in Ten Pin Bowling and Swimming right across NSW.

Volunteers and parents are invaluable in helping with the driving and support that makes these events possible.

"WE GET TO GO TO LOADS OF GREAT PLACES AND DO LOTS OF GREAT THINGS" EMMA

▶ VALLEY ACCOMMODATION & LIVING SERVICES

SAFE, INDEPENDENT, SUPPORTED

Valley Industries has recently expanded its 'in-home' services to offer more support to Participants who already have a strong relationship with us.

In addition to working with Participants to increase their daily living skills, we are now able to offer assistance to help them make the transition to independent living.

Valley Industries has recently taken leases on 4 properties that are suitable for people with disability and, working with Community Housing, are offering these to Participants at favourable market rates, enabling them to start their independent life on a secure financial footing.

Support Workers will continue to work alongside Participants to improve their home keeping skills and offer assistance and advice where it's needed.

With the roll-out of NDIS, there is great potential for Valley Industries to increase the level of services offered for 'in-home' support – building on our well established reputation in the region.
